

Stadshuskällaren cherishes Swedish flavors and works closely with farmers, growers, and producers across Sweden. Here you'll enjoy contemporary cuisine with a local touch, carefully selected beverages, and top-class service. Stadshuskällaren is an iconic restaurant featuring a design by Jonas Bohlin and a modern food concept guided by Head Chef Magnus Santesson's philosophy "In the Forest, In the City."

Booking Terms

We require your order at least 14 business days prior to the planned event.

The same menu applies to all guests in the party. Any dietary requirements must be communicated to us no later than 5 business days before the event date.

The number of guests may be adjusted by up to 10% of the original booking up to 3 business days prior to the event. After that, the full price will be charged.

Cancellations

For full cancellations, the following fees apply:

14–11 banking days prior to the event: 20% of the original booking

10–4 banking days prior to the event: 50% of the original booking

3–0 banking days prior to the event: 100% of the original booking

All changes and cancellations must be made in writing to: bokning@stadshuskallarensthlm.se

Payment

For companies and larger groups, invoicing is available with 10-day payment terms. We apply prepayment based on the specified number of guests approximately 10 days prior to the booking date, unless otherwise agreed. The prepayment invoice will be adjusted on the final invoice to include any additions or deductions. Please provide invoicing details at the time of booking. Late payment will incur interest at a rate of 8% from the due date. Note that card payment on site is also accepted.
